Leesburg Man Is County's First Highway Victim of 1957

Fayette County chalked up its first traffic fatality of 1957 Monday when Clifford Ryan, 39, Route 1, Leesburg, died in University Hospital, Columbus, of injuries received at 9:30 p. m. Jan. 5 in a one-car accident on Route 62 at Staunton.

Ryan received a broken neck and multiple cuts and bruises when the automobile in which he was riding with his half-brother, Bernard E. Cole, 28, Leesburg, left the highway on the Staunton curve, struck a tree and overturned.

Cole, who suffered cuts and body bruises in the crash, was released from Memorial Hospital last Wednesday.

ALTHOUGH the vehicle was registered in Cole's name, the latter told Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays he did not remember who was driving when the accident occurred. Both men had been drinking, officers said.

Cole, on parole in Cincinnati, believed to be at his home near Leesburg, will be questioned again, Sheriff Orland Hayes has indicated. What charges will be filed, if any, will await further interrogation.

Cole faces a possible manslaughter charge if it is established that he was the driver of the death car.

THE CRASH occurred as Cole's automobile passed a car driven by Connell McCoy, Route 2, Leesburg, at a high rate of speed. After skidding 60 feet, Cole's car struck a tree in front of the home of Harold Wilson, rolled over several times and came to a halt upright in front of the Staunton Methodist Church.

Both men were thrown into the highway.

The Staunton curve has claimed two lives in the past four months.

Hugh E. Smith, 20, of Washington C. H., died there Sept. 9 when his motorcycle left the highway and overturned against the church.

Plant Sought Here Goes To Springfield

Tom Mark, president of the Washington C. H. Chamber of Commerce, announced at a board of directors meeting Monday evening that plans for a new industry to open in the city have failed to materialize.

Chamber officers and others had been working with the Standart d-Thomson Corp. of Vandalia, regarding moving their automobile thermostat manufacturing operation to this city. Corporation spokesman had indicated a keen desire to locate here, but when a suitable building could not be found they announced plans to move to a vacant building in Springfield. The building they occupied in Vandalia was sold recently.

In summing up the many hours of work the chamber officers spent on the industry Mark said, the loss of this company further points up the need for an Industrial Development Corp. in Washington C. H. "If we had the money available for a building for this firm, I am sure they would have located here," Mark said.

The minus-55 mark at Bonneville set an all-time record for New York state, shattering a 23-year-old record set when the mercury sank to 52 below at Stillwater reservoir Feb. 9, 1934.

Local records fell by hundreds as the arctic siege went into its second day with no immediate relief sighted. At Massena, N. Y., the temperature reached 44 degrees below zero at 6:30 a. m. On her recordings were -27 at Watertown, -25 at Utica, -23 at Elmira, -21 at Syracuse and Glenn Falls, -19 at Binghamton and Albany, and -12 at Buffalo.

New York City, favored by its coastal location, recorded 3 above zero in the early morning. LaGuardia Airport had 3 below.

At Newark N. J., airport, a zero reading was noted for the first time since Jan. 25, 1945.

Statistically and comparatively, the cold spell gripping Ohio does not amount to much.

Then, most Ohioans seem to agree, you're likely to come stomping back inside, saying something like:

The Weather Bureau, which says it has been colder than this in the past (1893, for instance, when it was 12 below on Jan. 15) holds little hope for immediate warmth.

Forecasts for Ohio today indicate continued cloudiness and cold. Most areas can expect snow during the afternoon or evening, the Weather Bureau says.

Ike Asks Congress For Added Funds

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The Eisenhower administration has asked Congress for supplemental appropriations totaling $383 million, $277 million of this to cover increased costs of the Social Security program.

The funds, requested Monday, would supplement money already available for the current fiscal year which ends next June 30.

The White House also asked for an additional $26 million for the Farmers Home Administration to aid farmers hit by drought and other disasters, $50 million to meet increased loan requirements of the Small Business Administration, and $30 million to continue the purchase of strategic minerals produced domestically.

Portsmouth Sees Renewal Of Violence in Phone Strike

PORSCMOUTH, D.C.—Renewed violence broke out in the telephone strike here Monday when a group of 10 or 12 men attacked representatives of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

Police said Robert Cole, 28, was taken to the Portsmouth General Hospital with a possible brain concussion. They said he was hit on the head with a piece of lead, possibly part of a cable covering.

It was the first reported violence since the company restored service to Portsmouth and surrounding Scioto County Dec. 16.

The Communications Workers of America, on strike against Ohio Consolidated since July 15, denied responsibility for the violence.

Police Chief Albert Bailey said Cole was a member of a four-man crew repairing a cut cable on the east side of Portsmouth when the stones, attacked.

The attack came shortly after a police cruiser guarding the repair crew was sent on an emergency call, Bailey said.

A. C. PURPURA, Ohio Consolidated general manager, said the company will halt cable repairs unless its personnel receive better protection.

Frank Therneau, CWA district director, reiterated the union's position when he received news of Monday's violence.

"It (violence) is wholly against our principles," he said. "We know nothing of it and we want no part of it."

COLUMBUS, D.C.—The Ohio National Guard is prepared to move into Portsmouth "at once" if there is any concerted violence in the area due to the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. strike, Gov. C. William O'Neill said today.

What units would be sent into the area were not disclosed. However, during the latter days of office of former Gov. Frank J. Lausche, it was reported that elements of the 166th Regimental Combat Team had been alerted. They included companies located at Circleville, Washington C. H., Chillicothe and Ironton.

Ohio Highway Council May Be Abolished

O'Neill Confers With New Road Chief, Law Makers

COLUMBUS, D.C.—Legislation to abolish Ohio's highway construction council will be started through the General Assembly this week, Gov. C. William O'Neill announced.

He said the three-member council had served its purpose and should be dropped in the interest of economy.

The council, headed by Clingan Jackson of Youngstown, was created in 1953 to classify highways and screen thoroughfare construction projects.

Other members of the council are Daniel Heekin of Cincinnati and Wilbur M. Cotton of Dayton.

O'Neill announced the move after a morning conference with Senate and House majority leaders and his new highway director, Charles M. Noble.

O'Neill also signed into law emergency legislation to pay Noelle $30,000 a year, $5,000 a year more than O'Neill receives as governor. O'Neill said he discussed reorganization of the highway department with Noble.

The former highway director, S. O. Linzell, said he had no desire to remain in the highway department, O'Neill reported.

The governor said he had not prepared his talk-for-an-afternoon meeting with sheriffs called in from all 88 counties. O'Neill issued the call to discuss reports that gamblers plan to reopen bigtime casinos.

Before he was sworn in at noon Monday as governor, O'Neill, still attorney general, handed down two rulings. They were announced today.

One said hospital trustees and county commissioners are responsible for the original purchase of construction of a county hospital building.

The opinion said the obligation falls on hospital trustees whether or not the project is the original building or an addition to an existing county hospital.

'Great Likelihood' Seen For Middle East War

Lions Quitting SCO To Join 8-Team Loop

Washington C. H. High School has joined a new eight-school athletic league made up of London, Hilliard, Grove City, Westerville, Marysville, Gahanna, Groveport and Washington C. H.

But, to do that, it had to withdraw from the old five-school South Central Ohio League.

The change was made, "not because we were dissatisfied with the old SCO, but because we were faced with scheduling problems," school officials explained.

First games in the new league will not be played until 1958.

THE NEW LEAGUE is an expansion of what has been known as the Mid-Six League. Originally the teams were London, Hilliard, Grove City, Westerville, Marysville and Worthington.

Decision to expand the former Mid-Six League came about a month ago, Head Coach Fred Domenico said, when Worthington withdrew from it to join the Central Buckeye League.

This, he explained, left only five schools in the Mid-Six. Faced with scheduling problems in the smaller league, principals of these schools decided at a meeting in Worthington Jan. 8 to expand the league to eight schools, rather than merely fill the vacancy caused by Worthington's withdrawal.

Time was a factor, Coach Domenico explained, because five other schools had made application and the Mid-Six principals were to meet Monday to select the new league members.

The six applicants were Washington C. H., Gahanna, Groveport (which were accepted), Mifflin, Franklin Heights and Reynoldsburg.

Word that the Washington C. H. application was one of three accepted was received here Tuesday morning.

FIRST OVERATURES to Washington C. H. school authorities to join the expanding Mid-Six were made informally Dec. 11 at the basketball game between the WHS Lions and the Red Raiders at London.

The matter was taken up by the WHS Athletic Board and a letter was sent to the Mid-Six expressing interest and giving enrollment figures and other related data.

After the Mid-Six decision Jan. 8 to increase the league, the WHS Athletic Board met again last Saturday. At this meeting, the problems of scheduling were discussed again.

It was also apparent, Coach Domenico said, that the board was reluctant to pull out of the old SCO, which had provided keen rivalries for more than a quarter of a century. But, in the end, he continued, the board was convinced that the only solution to the problems was in joining another, and larger, league.

Not wanting to move hastily, despite the time limit, the matter was laid before the Board of Education at a special meeting last Saturday night.

It's 55 Below In New York

Brittle Cold Grips Upper Part of State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Brittle, glacial cold reached 55 degrees below zero in upstate New York today as polar air gripped the state.

The minus-55 mark at Boonville set an all-time record for New York state, shattering a 23-year-old record set when the mercury sank to 52 below at Stillwater Reservoir Feb. 9, 1934.

Local records fell by hundreds as the arctic siege went into its second day with no immediate relief sighted. At Massena, N. Y., the temperature reached 44 degrees below zero at 6:30 a. m. A section of the law states that representatives of city, village and county boards of education are to meet at the county seat "90 days after the effective date of this act" to form a school reorganization committee.

The 90-day provision is "directive" rather than "mandatory," O'Neill ruled, and "such provision does not render the law nugatory ineffective or inoperative after such a date."

Fair Managers Open Convention

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Fair Managers Assn. opened its annual three-day convention here today with former governor Myers Y. Cooper, the association's honorary president, baving the opening ga-

Cooper told the assembled managers and delegates that Ohio's fares were "at the height of their influence" and in 1956 were attended by approximately 35 percent of Ohio's 9 million population.

President Charles J. Betsch of Chillicothe said more than 1,200 tickets have been sold to the convention banquet in Thursday night.

Gov. C. William O'Neill will be a featured speaker.

More clouds, more cold and more snow are predicted for Wednesday.

SUBZERO MARKS were general throughout the Northeast and southward into the Pennsylvania and Maryland mountains. The minimum in Maryland was 10 below at New Germany State Park where snow cover measured 5 to 6 inches.

New England extremes included 28 below zero at Burlington, Vt., and 12 below at Boston and Bradley Field near Hartford.

WANTAGE (AP)—Renewed violence broke out in the telephone strike here Monday when a group of 10 or 12 men attacked representatives of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

Police said Robert Cole, 28, was taken to the Portsmouth General Hospital with a possible brain concussion. They said he was hit on the head with a piece of lead, possibly part of a cable covering.

It was the first reported violence since the company restored service to Portsmouth and surrounding Scioto County Dec. 16.

The Communications Workers of America, on strike against Ohio Consolidated since July 15, denied responsibility for the violence.

Police Chief Albert Bailey said Cole was a member of a four-man crew repairing a cut cable on the east side of Portsmouth when the men, throwing stones, attacked.

Swine Assn. Elects, Maps '57 Program

Members of the Swine Breeders and Feeders Assn. held their annual meeting Monday evening, electing officers and directors for five townships for the coming year. The annual swine program for the year was adopted.

Near-zero weather limited the crowd, but nearly 50 farmers interested in hog production, turned out for the meeting held at the Farm Bureau Auditorium. The program was in charge of Leeland Dorn, chairman of the program committee.

Minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the secretary, Larry Cleland, who reported on the goals and accomplishments of the association for the past year.

HE ENUMERATED the following accomplishments:

1. — The holding of the Swine Tour on Dec. 6 when 45 farmers visited four farms in the county and later discussed winter swine management problems.

2. Promotion of the Commercial Swine Show which was held in connection with the County Fair.

3. — Promotion of the Ohio Swine Improvement program, making Fayette County one of the leading counties in this important swine improvement work. Sixteen litters were nominated in the improvement program and eight litters participated in the Swine Evaluation Station. Fayette County had the first proven sire, a Yorkshire, owned by David Carr.

4. — Fayette County was represented in attendance at all swine meetings held during the year with Harry Craig and A. R. Rankin being named members of the Ohio Commercial Swine Assn.

5. — Promotion 4-H Pig Club and FFA work in the county, having 88 4-H members exhibit 168 pigs at the fair and FFA members exhibit 24 pigs.

6. — The Annual Swine Banquet with 155 present.

7. — Encouragement of the consumption of pork through working with local meat retailers and processors.

8. — Support and promotion of the Ohio Spring Barrow Show held at the Madison County Fairgrounds.

HARRY CRAIG, past president of the association, led a discussion on future plans and the following program was adopted for 1957:

1. Continue the holding of swine tours: (a) In-county tour; (b) Out-county tour.

2. Promote the Commercial Swine Show for 1957 with emphasis on greater attendance and any new features to give greater educational value.

3. Promote the Ohio Swine Improvement Program so that Fayette County may continue to be the leading county in providing litters to feeding stations and promote attendance at the annual meeting.

4. Plan attendance at the annual meetings of the Ohio Swine Improvement Assn., and Purebred Breed Assn.'s annual meetings in December. Swine Institute, Commercial Swine Assn., etc.

5. Promote 4-H Pig Club and FFA work in the county. Get more 4-H and FFA members to exhibit at the State Fair.

6. Continue holding the Swine Banquet.

7. Continue holding Swine Institute.

8. Encourage more hog raisers to participate in the activities of the association.

9. Encourage the consumption of pork through working with local meat retailers and processors.

10. Support and promote the Ohio Spring Barrow Show.

11. Investigate possibility of improved selling and grading, including rail grading.

Kennell Given New Term on Welfare Board

Percy Kennell, of Union Township, has been reappointed to another term as a member of the Fayette County Child Welfare Board, which has charge of the Fayette County Children's Home.

Kennell was named at the regular session of the county board of commissioners, held at the Court-house Tuesday.

The change from the Monday meeting date was due to the fact that the commissioners were among the county officials in Columbus Monday to attend the inauguration ceremonies for Gov. C. William O'Neill.

She told directors of the association, at a regular meeting of the board, that the drive is about $300 behind last year's figure for the comparable date. Of 6,700 letters mailed out in November, she said, 2,684 replies have been received.

Mrs. Stephens said new figures will be prepared at the end of this week, to include receipts from 200 additional responses in the last few days, and that the association will continue work toward its goal of $5,425.

H. H. DENTON, county representative on the board of trustees of Mt. Logan Sanatorium, outlined proposed plant improvements there and expressed appreciation for the continuing interest of county people in the work at the sanatorium. Mrs. Stephens and Miss Frances White reported on Christmas parties held for patients there, and read several notes of appreciation they had received.

Miss Dee Hawke, field counselor for the state association, discussed program expansion and educational opportunities with the directors, emphasizing services in the two-county Fayette-Highland area.

The board considered plans for the annual meeting of the association, which is scheduled for March. Robert Tice, vice president of the group, presided in the absence of president Charles Pensyl. Eight other directors attended.

lems similar to those here. So acute had this problem become, he said, that for the last three years efforts had been made to increase the size of the league, but without success.

He said, too, that it is the hope of the WHS Athletic Board that non-league games still can be scheduled with the old SCO teams because of the traditional rivalries built up through the years.

WHEN the new league gets under way, Coach Domenico explained, the last seven games of the football schedules of all eight schools will be with league teams. The first two games on the schedule will be with non-league teams.

It is for these two games, Coach Domenico said, that the WHS Athletic Board hopes to schedule the old rival teams of the SCO League.

Pointing up the scheduling problems that prompted the change to the new league, Coach Domenico said he had sent out letters to 33 schools within a 60-mile radius of Washington C. H., trying to book games for this fall and had received negative replies from eight.

Only one expressed interest and it was Bellville, near Mansfield, more than 90 miles away. And, there were two open dates on the WHS schedule of three home games and four away from home.

Swine Assn. Elects, Maps '57 Program

Members of the Swine Breeders and Feeders Assn. held their annual meeting Monday evening, electing officers and directors for five townships for the coming year. The annual swine program for the year was adopted.

Near-zero weather limited the crowd, but nearly 50 farmers interested in hog production, turned out for the meeting held at the Farm Bureau Auditorium. The program was in charge of Leeland Dorn, chairman of the program committee.

Minutes of the last annual meeting were read by the secretary, Larry Cleland, who reported on the goals and accomplishments of the association for the past year.

HE ENUMERATED the following accomplishments:

1. — The holding of the Swine Tour on Dec. 6 when 45 farmers visited four farms in the county and later discussed winter swine management problems.

2. Promotion of the Commercial Swine Show which was held in connection with the County Fair.

3. — Promotion of the Ohio Swine Improvement program, making Fayette County one of the leading counties in this important swine improvement work. Sixteen litters were nominated in the improvement program and eight litterers participated in the Swine Evaluation Station. Fayette County had the first proven sire, a Yorkshire, owned by David Carr.

4. — Fayette County was represented in attendance at all swine meetings held during the year with Harry Craig and A. R. Rankin being named members of the Ohio Commercial Swine Assn.

5. — Promotion 4-H Pig Club and FFA work in the county, having 88 4-H members exhibit 168 pigs at the fair and FFA members exhibit 24 pigs.

6. — The Annual Swine Banquet with 155 present.

7. — Encouragement of the consumption of pork through working with local meat retailers and processors.

8. — Support and promotion of the Ohio Spring Barrow Show held at the Madison County Fairgrounds.

HARRY CRAIG, past president of the association, led a discussion on future plans and the following program was adopted for 1957:

1. Continue the holding of swine tours: (a) In-county tour; (b) Out-of-county tour.

2. Promote the Commercial Swine Show for 1957 with emphasis on greater attendance and any new features to give greater educational value.

3. Promote the Ohio Swine Improvement Program so that Fayette County may continue to be the leading county in providing litters to feeding stations and promote attendance at the annual meeting.

4. Plan attendance at the annual meetings of the Ohio Swine Improvement Assn., and Purebred Breed Assn.'s annual meetings in December, Swine Institute, Commercial Swine Assn., etc.

5. Promote 4-H Pig Club and FFA work in the county. Get more 4-H and FFA members to exhibit at the State Fair.

6. Continue holding the Swine Banquet.

7. Continue holding Swine Institute.

8. Encourage more hog raisers to participate in the activities of the association.

9. Encourage the consumption of pork through working with local meat retailers and processors.

10. Support and promote the Ohio Spring Barrow Show.

11. Investigate possibility of improved selling and grading, including rail grading.

12. Investigate the possibility of improving the merchandising of pork products.

13. Increase per capita consumption of pork products in Fayette County.

Lake Erie To Be Explored For Natural Oil Deposits

COLUMBUS (AP)—Is there gas and oil under the American part of Lake Erie?

Some geologists think so, and before the year is out Ohio will know for sure. Canada already is taking gas from its share of Lake Erie, with 10 or 12 wells producing.

Next month Ohio takes the first step in finding out whether there is gas and oil under Lake Erie's sandy bed. Then it will advertise for bids on leases for nearly 5,000 acres of offshore land in the Lakewood-Cleveland area.

So far, one person, Howard Ward of Bowling Green, formally has indicated he would like to lease some offshore land. F. O. Kugel, chief of the state shore erosion division, says there have been several informal inquiries.

The state natural resources commission recently approved leases for granting the leases.

The 5,000 acres being opened up for exploration begin one-half mile offshore and run about 1.4 miles into the lake. They extend from the west limit of Lakewood and extend to inside the Cleveland west city limit.

Other offshore areas are believed to contain gas and oil and likely will be opened to exploration later if there is a demand for them.

There are old gas wells in the Lakewood land area and geologists believe gas sands extend under Lake Erie.

Ohio law gives the shore erosion division the right to lease oil and gas rights from and under the Lake Erie bed. Proceeds from leases would go into the division's funds.

The firm making the highest cash bonus bid will get the lease of the land off Lakewood and Cleveland. It must start drilling at least one well during the first year of the five-year lease.

The lease will be subject to the approval of the director of natural resources, the natural resources commission, the attorney general and the governor.

The state will get one-eighth of the current market value of any gas and/or oil taken from the lake, plus 50 cents per acre of leased land per year. The annual rental decreases after a well starts producing.

Companies drilling for gas and oil won't be able to interfere with fishing rights in Lake Erie and cannot pollute the lake.

The state keeps the right to sand and gravel and salt on or beneath the bed of Lake Erie.

Because of possible hazards to navigation, drillers must get permission of the U.S. Corp. of Engineers at Buffalo before drilling rigs and pipe lines can be placed in the lake, and the U.S. Coast Guard must approve lighting and marking of the structures.

Youthful Slayer's Estate: $25,000

CINCINNATI (AP)—Gordon Page, 19-year-old Miami University student who was involved in a double slaying and suicide here Dec. 22, left an estate of $25,000.

Killed in the triple shooting were young Page; the girl he had been dating, Susan Aue, 17, and her father, Lester Aue, 54. Police have said young Page apparently shot Aue and Susan and then killed himself in anger because the young girl had "going steady" with him. Mrs. Aue, 50, the girl's mother, also was wounded and still is in serious condition.

OSU Orders Three New Men's Dorms

COLUMBUS (AP)—Trustees of Ohio State University Monday authorized the director of public works to award contracts for the construction of three 11-story men's dormitories on the campus at a cost of $6,054,175.

The new units will provide facilities for 1,488 students and are scheduled for completion by October of 1958.

The firm making the highest cash bonus bid will get the lease of the land off Lakewood and Cleveland. It must start drilling at least one well during the first year of the five-year lease.

The lease will be subject to the approval of the director of natural resources, the natural resources commission, the attorney general and the governor.

The state will get one-eighth of the current market value of any gas and/or oil taken from the lake, plus 50 cents per acre of leased land per year. The annual rental decreases after a well starts producing.

While it is not generally realized, the longest highway project being carried over through the winter, is on the CCC Highway from Washington C. H. to point north of the ove rhead crossing of the B&O northeast of Mount Sterling.

Contract for the widening and resurfacing of this long section of main road was let last year to John Jergensen Co., and it is to be completed during the coming summer.

The road is to be widened several feet throughout the entire length of the project and resurfaced.

Last fall work of extending the many culverts under the road was completed, so that when new grading is done the culverts will be in readiness.

CROOKED CREEK

Not too many residents of the county know that there is a "Crooked Creek" in Fayette County, but it is a sizeable stream several miles in length, which rises in the area north of the Robinson Rd. and west of the Bogus Rd., flows southward, crossing the Robinson Rd., a short distance east of the Bogus Rd., crosses Camp Grove Rd., a short distance south of the Robinson Rd., then turns northeastward, again crossing the Robinson Rd., east of the Camp Grove Rd., thence northeastward, crossing the White Rd., at the intersection of the Clemens Rd., and enters Compton Creek a short distance east of the White Rd.

It goes without saying that the stream is really well named.

It was at White Rd., on this stream, that plans were proposed for a dam and a sizeable lake on the Ohio Wesleyan University lands, some 15 or 20 years ago, but the project was abandoned when it was found that the deed given by Charles Persinger prohibited use of the land for such purposes.

Ohio Faces A Big Problem In State Finances

The need for an overhauling and improvement of the Ohio tax structure has become increasingly apparent for many years and it appears desirable that the present new Ohio General Assembly make the right kind of a study of the question at once in order to do something about it.

This matter has been a source of numerous surveys and studies by many different organizations in recent years; quite probably some of the information obtained from these sources would be helpful to the Legislature in arriving at conclusions which point up the urgency in making adjustments more equitable for the people of this state as a whole.

Within the past very few years the annual expenditures in Ohio government have risen to a new high, surging upward for more and improved services and for many other things, some good, some unnecessary.

Our state has now risen in expenses to the billion dollar mark with the state treasury department reporting still another upward swing to a point where cash outgo appears certain to go far beyond cash income. The threat of a deficit being faced.

This will prove a tough nut to crack for the new incoming state administration and the Ohio General Assembly which has just entered upon its vast duties. It will mean that the Legislature may have to uncover new sources of income or draw more heavily on existing tax sources.

One big state organization has called attention to a study just completed by Prof. Richard A. Musgrave of the University of Michigan showing the inequities of state sales taxes. This man told Congress two years ago that excises on retail items take 5.7 per cent of the total income of families making less than $2,000 a year as compared to 2.2 per cent of families with over $10,000. "We believe," a statement from the above mentioned organization says, "it is time the Legislature stopped making the present unfair tax laws more unfair and started instead on a major overhauling of the entire structure. As they exist now, Ohio's tax laws are morally and economically wrong!"

Another example is that for years our laws, in many instances, have taken the easy shortcut by dumping a heavy tax load on real estate and permitting many other sources of wealth to escape big bond issues, thereby penalizing the small home owner and his family.

It is to be expected that objections and criticism will come with indications of most any revision or upward changes in existing tax schedules in Ohio, although everyone knows that something has to be done.

It has been mentioned from some sources that in one seemingly small source alone, several millions of dollars a year could be saved by voiding the privilege of the state redeeming sales tax stamps at three per cent of their face value, a privilege which many charitable, church and welfare organizations have used to their advantage for years.

Even such minor changes in state tax measures possibly would bring statewide repercussions, but state authorities insist that more tax money will have to be raised to meet the demands of a public which constantly seeks more ways of spending public money. It takes real courage for political office holders to say "no" to most of these demands.

It is now being pointed out by those in close touch with the Ohio situation that in past years hesitation on the part of the Legislature in securing additional revenue has worked severe hardships and, in the long run, proved expensive. One reason why today a costly emergency construction program is under way to expand Ohio's penal and medical facilities and to enlarge and improve Ohio's antiquated road system is that previous Legislatures put off appropriating construction money when it was needed. It is to be hoped that the present Ohio General Assembly, in collaboration with the O'Neill administration, will meet Ohio's financial problem realistically and directly and will endeavor to make the public realize that if they want good and better government it cannot be obtained cheaply.

Simple 'Reverence for Life'

NEW YORK (AP)—If there is a saint now living on earth, many feel it is a gentle giant of the mind and heart who dwells deep in Africa and was 82 years old Monday.

He is Albert Schweitzer, a strong multiple-genius who, following a mystic sense of self-dedication, left Europe in 1913 to found a hospital at Lambaréne in French Equatorial Africa.

Even then he was famous as a philosopher, theologian, historian, and world renowned organist. His work as a medical missionary added to his stature. So did his massive "Philosophy of Civilization," written, ironically, in a jungle clearing at night when his hospital chores were done.

But his ultimate immortality rests on a three-word creed he flung into the face of the most murderous generation the human race has produced. His insistence on a "reverence for life."

Dr. Schweitzer, famed among scholars, remained to the man in the street little more than a legendary figure in far off Africa.

ca. But in 1950 a group of leading artists, writers and musicians of 17 countries acclaimed Dr. Schweitzer as "the man of the century." In 1952 he was awarded the Nobel award for peace.

Accepting the $33,200 prize, which he applied toward improving housing for 250 lepers in his hospital, the sturdy, buffalomoustached doctor explained his philosophy in these words:

"He doesn't like to ride in cars and never has been in an airplane. He has seen only three or four movies in his life."

Pilgrims of all kinds and from many lands have journeyed to visit this disturbingly kind philosopher, who, instead of stepping on the ants at his feet, puts down food for them.

What is he really like? The world will soon be able to see how he works and lives, in a biography filmed by Erica Anderson, a Vienna-born photographer, and produced by Jerome Hill, grandson of James J. Hill, the "airway titan."

"You don't live in a world all your own. Your brothers are here, too."

"He lives with utmost simplicity," Mrs. Anderson said. "His favorite food is onion soup. He hasn't smoked since he was 25, nor does he take hard liquor. Once, while he was visiting America, a lady insisted, 'oh, one cocktail in your life won't hurt you.' And he took the glass politely and said, 'very well then—the only cocktail in my lifetime.'

"He doesn't like to ride in cars and never has been in an airplane. He has seen only three or four movies in his life."

Schweitzer's birthday was celebrated at the hospital where he, three doctors, and eight nurses care for 500 to 600 native patients. Mrs. Anderson said beforehand: "It will be just as if it were any member of his staff's birthday. He doesn't like to be buried over."

"But a half hour before breakfast a group of the natives and the staff will gather and sing to him. At breakfast, small hand-made presents will be put by his plate. As the bell ending breakfast rings, he will rise and say:

"Well, I have one year less. Come! That means we must get to work quicker!"

Taxes and Inflation

During the Roosevelt era, the income tax was used, not to provide the government with sufficient funds to do its business, but as a social mechanism for the redistribution of wealth.

It was the Robin Hood sociology, namely, that it sought to take from the rich and give to the poor, and used as its slogan "one-third of the nation," which, while it was exaggerated, did arise in many of the rich a guilt complex which either sent them to the Communist party and fellow-traveler organizations or caused them to engage the services of such a public relations advisor as Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, to tell them how to be good and become popular.

The rich, however, grew richer because those who possessed inherited wealth or who had accumulated wealth soon learned how to take advantage of the various laws passed by the new deal and they did very well indeed.

The worker received subsidies in various forms as did the farmer and the industrialist. The principal sufferers of the Roosevelt social revolution were middle-class persons who soon found themselves ground down, unless they were entertainers who had given them special advantage.

In the Eisenhower administration, the income tax is being used to fight inflation. The theory is that the less money remaining in the possession of the individual, the less will be his demand for goods and services and therefore there will be no shortage of goods and services and therefore no inflation.

This theory has been developed during a period of excessive agricultural and industrial production when we are scouring the earth to find willing takers of our surpluses and when many countries are setting up resistances to our gifts because, it is argued, such gifts amount to dumping and set up inflationary trends in those countries.

Simultaneously, it is made clear that there is to be no reduction in the federal income tax so that the budget may remain in balance, while at the same time government spending is increasing which puts the budget out of balance. Also many of the loopholes in the income tax laws are to be tightened so that no one can get away with anything, a rule that could dry up reservoirs of American capital and make it advantageous for foreign capital to buy up American companies to establish foreign corporations to do as much of their business as possible.

This paradoxical situation indicates that what is most necessary is an overall fiscal policy for the United States, one that is based not on the socialist theory of the redistribution of wealth or the assumption that inflation is a greater evil than poverty but rather on the basis that it must be made possible for individual Americans to save a fair portion of their earnings as a privately-owned and managed estate.

This doctrine of the private ownership of wealth is the basis of American capitalism and if it goes by the board because of excessive taxation brutally collected, the time could come, and shortly, when the ownership of capital funds will be limited to life insurance companies, labor union welfare funds, foundations, and a few rich men whose inherited wealth has not been dissipated by inheritance taxes.

Thus, the operations of the tax laws are serving to concentrate wealth beyond anything that is tolerable in a free society. This concentration of wealth and the limitation upon opportunity by excessive taxation are resulting in social changes which could become intolerable to most of the American people when they become conscious of the very great evil of the arrangement.

Congress could well afford to make such an over-all study. Perhaps little can be done about it at a time when we have undertaken not only to limit the imperialism of Soviet Russia but to correct the international morality of our allies.

These are costly enterprises, but the American people need to know why our national debt increases while the national indebtedness of nations we aid decreases; they need to know why so many years after World War II is over, we still pay such

Special Fund Seen Coming To Aid Drought-Hit Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration may ask Congress to vote special funds to pay landowners for taking several million acres of land in the drought-plagued great plains out of crop production and restoring it to permanent grasses.

These payments would be in addition to those being offered farmers for planting less than this year's allotment for wheat, corn, cotton and tobacco under the new soil bank plan.

Agriculture department officials say the southern great plains—now gripped by one of the severest droughts in modern history—faces two general types of problems. One is to help farmers and ranchers hold on until the drought ends. The other is to help them make adjustments in the use of their land.

It is a desire for additional information and advice on these problems that has taken President

A person suffering from poisoning by this gas must have fresh air immediately. If the room can't be ventilated quickly, take him outside.

Keep Him Warm

Apply artificial respiration if he is breathing weakly or not at all. Use plenty of blankets and hot water bags to keep him warm and let him rest just as long as he wants.

Even though only one part of carbon monoxide in 700 parts of air can be fatal, exposure to this gas doesn't always mean death. In fact, only about one out of 200 persons exposed to carbon monoxide fumes is a fatality.

Paris physicians recently reported they have been able to revive victims of carbon monoxide poisoning more rapidly with an intravenous drug, cytochrome C, than with the usual procedures. In 20 cases of coma, they said, the drug was effective within 8 to 30 minutes.

This land is in the more arid areas and is the source of most of the destructive dust storms that plague vast areas in dry seasons.

The proposed payment program would be designed to offer landowners sufficient financial incentive—and funds to tide them over—to plant these lands to permanent grasses when the present drought ends. The program would limit grazing on the land until the grass was well established and capable of sustaining cattle and sheep.

However, before you do, be sure and test the wallpaper inks with water to make sure they are color fast—otherwise they may bleed through the paint. our yearly toll of deaths from carbon monoxide. It may be a dirty or badly adjusted furnace, boiler, fuel burning stove or space heater. Even a faulty refrigerator can be blamed.

A clogged vent, chimney or flue pipe might prevent gases from being properly released, and carbon monoxide might flood the home.

This gas can poison you by combining with the hemoglobin in your blood. It prevents blood from carrying oxygen to the body tissues.

Development of certain symptoms should lead you to suspect that carbon monoxide fumes are present. These include headaches, dizziness, drowsiness and nausea. You may become irritable, perspire suddenly, become mentally dull and absent-minded. Your legs may ache and you may have hallucinations.

Special Fund Seen Coming To Aid Drought-Hit Farmers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration may ask Congress to vote special funds to pay landowners for taking several million acres of land in the drought-plagued great plains out of crop production and restoring it to permanent grasses.

These payments would be in addition to those being offered farmers for planting less than this year's allotment for wheat, corn, cotton and tobacco under the new soil bank plan.

Agriculture department officials say the southern great plains—now gripped by one of the severest droughts in modern history—faces two general types of problems. One is to help farmers and ranchers hold on until the drought ends. The other is to help them make adjustments in the use of their land.

It is a desire for additional information and advice on these problems that has taken President asphyxiation by carbon monoxide by the cherry-red color of the victim's skin, eyelids, lips and ears.

A person suffering from poisoning by this gas must have fresh air immediately. If the room can't be ventilated quickly, take him outside.

Keep Him Warm

Apply artificial respiration if he is breathing weakly or not at all. Use plenty of blankets and hot water bags to keep him warm and let him rest just as long as he wants.

Even though only one part of carbon monoxide in 700 parts of air can be fatal, exposure to this gas doesn't always mean death. In fact, only about one out of 200 persons exposed to carbon monoxide fumes is a fatality.

Paris physicians recently reported they have been able to revive victims of carbon monoxide poisoning more rapidly with an intravenous drug, cytochrome C, than with the usual procedures. In 20 cases of coma, they said, the drug was effective within 8 to 30 minutes.

This land is in the more arid areas and is the source of most of the destructive dust storms that plague vast areas in dry seasons.

The proposed payment program would be designed to offer landowners sufficient financial incentive—and funds to tide them over—to plant these lands to permanent grasses when the present drought ends. The program would limit grazing on the land until the grass was well established and capable of sustaining cattle and sheep.

Civilization's Cradle—a Grave?

Ignorance, Fear Big Allies Of Communism in Mid-East

Editor's Note — The cradle of civilization can become its grave if misjudgment in the Middle East sets off World War III. Today Americans are trying to gauge their role in the area. The background and its significance will be sketched in four articles by William L. Ryan, just back from his fourth trip to the Middle East.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The worst enemies of the United States in the Middle East are ignorance, fear, corruption and poverty.

It will take more than a declaration against armed aggression to defeat these allies of communism. Even a generation of patience, planning and cooperation might not be enough.

At best, the Eisenhower Doctrine or some substitute will be a modest beginning toward a convincing policy. It indicates the dawning of an American realization that the last chance in the Middle East is at hand.

As it stands, the Eisenhower Doctrine fails to answer basic questions from either Arab or Israeli. It does not commit the United States to much more than was understood already. An armed Communist attack in any event would have created a world war situation. On the economic side, given any improvement in political climate, some American program was to be expected.

The most common criticism of the United States in the Middle East is that it never really has had a policy there. Arab and Israeli alike would welcome a clear statement of American policy for the area, but as yet none has been forthcoming.

The core of the problem is an area known as the Fertile Crescent, made up of Iraq, Syria, Jordan and Palestine. In area it is slightly bigger than the state of Texas, in population less than the state of New York. This area, the home of about 14 million people, is alive with ferment.

How did it get that way? The story is centuries old, a record of oppression, feudalism, backwardness and the broken promises of the West. From this cradle sprang the three great religions of Western civilization — Christian, Hindu and Moslem.

For many generations the people of the Arab East lived without national identity under the oppressive rule of the Ottoman Empire. World War I brought hope. Turkey was allied with Germany, wooing the aid of the Arabs. Britain and France made glowing promises of a paradise to come if they would rise against Ottoman rule. With British help, the Arab nationalists revolted.

When the war was over, the British and French conveniently forgot the promises. They cut up the Arab world and carved out spheres of influence.

The Arabs had no popular political parties, no ideology they could call their own, no social program.

World War II brought economic change. The rise of new industries favored development of what the Russians call a "proletariat." Communist fortunes improved in the Arab world. They began a

National Aircraft Show Called Off

CLEVELAND (AP) — There will be no National Aircraft Show this week, the sponsoring Air Foundation has announced.

Benjamin T. Franklin, Air Foundation manager, said a U. S. Defense Department memo from Secretary Charles Wilson had advised him that military aircraft would not participate in any 1957 show.

"In view of this action," Franklin said, "the executive committee of the National Aircraft Show has announced the show will not be held during 1957."

Military pilots and planes have been an important part of the shows, which have been held five times since 1946 — here, in Dayton, in Philadelphia and last year in Oklahoma City where attendance of 150,000 was about half the expected patronage.

Included with the rise of Gamal Abdel Nasser in Egypt as the Arab world's new hero.

And something else new was added. Soviet politicians found communism could leap easily over the northern tier. They concluded a deal with Nasser for arms he could not get from the West, arms he insisted he needed as a defense against Israel. Russian influence was intruding itself into the Middle East with a vengeance.

15 Claimants Due To Split Pennsy Turnpike Rewards

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Attorneys for 15 claimants have agreed to an out-of-court settlement to split $6,000 in reward money offered for the capture and conviction of the phantom slayer of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Two of the claimants are to receive $500 each and two $400 each. The remaining money, after deduction of $400 for legal fees, is to be divided equally among the 11 other claimants.

A $5,000 reward was offered by the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. and Continental Transportation Lines, Inc., Pittsburgh, offering $1,000 after two truckers were slain on the turnpike in 1953.

John Wesley Wable of Ohiopyle, Pa., was convicted and executed in the case.

The attorneys also agreed that any additional reward money turned over to the court in connection with the case would be split proportionately.

Another $5,000 reward offered by the Teamsters Union has not been turned over to the court.

Laura Crissey, a girl friend of Wable's and her stepfather, John Jandura, both of Wickliffe, Ohio, each will receive $400. John K. Sheppard, West Alexander, Pa., a wounded truck driver, and Joseph C. Kunkle, a toll gate attendant on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, each will receive $300.

The remainder of the money will be divided equally among these persons:

An Arab-Israeli armistice brought no peace. Palestine was partitioned. New Member Is Welcomed Into Club

Mrs. David Depner was hostess to eight members of the Washington Home Demonstration Club, Monday evening and one guest was included.

Mrs. Wendell Barr, president, presided over the meeting, which included the secretary-treasurer's report given by Mrs. Howard Bryant.

A new member, Mrs. Lew Smith of Greenfield, was welcomed into the club, and plans were made for a special meeting in February, which will feature a covered dish dinner and the showing of a T.B. film with members of the Sunny East Club as guests.

A contribution was made to the Pennies For Friendship Fund, and Achievement Day was announced for April 5.

Mrs. Barr took a poll of the members on housework chores they dislike most and efforts will be made through the Farm Bureau to make these tasks more pleasant, with helpful suggestions which will be a major project for the year.

Mrs. Emerson Marting, primus, conducted the opening ritual and Mrs. Everett White led in the devotions which was followed with the tribute's report given by Mrs. John Sagar, Jr., and the quæster's report given by Mrs. Wilbur Rapp, both of which were approved as given.

Twenty-nine members responded to roll call and a discussion was held on the annual dinner dance at the Washington Country Club Feb. 9, with members privileged to invite two couples as guests and Mrs. Marting appointed Mrs. Loren Noble as chairman of the arrangements with Mrs. Everett White, Mrs. John Craig and Mrs. Fred Braddock as her assistants on the committee.

The committee to visit Rest Homes for the coming month appointed was made up of Mrs. John Noble, Mrs. Loren Noble and Mrs. Robert Parish.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Ralph Hyer, program chairman, who introduced Mrs. John Trace who spoke on the subject of "Mental Health."

In her interesting talk Mrs. Trace said there are 500,000 patients in State Mental Hospitals alone, with private institutions also crowded to capacity and there are more mental cases in the United States than polio, cancer and heart cases combined.

Mrs. Trace mentioned the several types of mental illness and gave examples of treatment in children as well as adults in the new drugs discovered through research.

At the close of this educational talk the group enjoyed a social hour during which tempting refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Will Braun, Mrs. Hugh Rea and Mrs. Charles Mustine.

Daughters 1812 Hold Regular January Meeting

Monday afternoon January fourteenth, Mrs. Robert D. Woodmansee graciously opened her home for the January meeting of the Major Samuel Myers Chapter of the United States Daughters of 1812.

Mrs. Loren D. Hynes, president, assisted by the chaplain, Mrs. Paul D. Fairley, opened the meeting. Mrs. Frank Michael, flag chairman led the Salute to the Flag and the singing of one verse of the National Anthem with Mrs. Woodmansee playing the piano accompaniment.

Committed reports were given by Mrs. Millard H. Weidinger reported for the treasurer who was unable to be present. There is a balance of $53.77 on hand at this time; Mrs. John Leland distributed grave location blanks and requested that the Daughters fill in and return same to her at the March meeting.

Mrs. Harold Zimmerman reported two boxes of clothing sent to Crossmore School and read a letter of thanks sent to the chapter. Mrs. Harold Haworth mailed her report on Ohio's Real Daughter to whom she had sent gifts from Major Samuel Myers Chapter at Christmastime.

Mrs. Golda Baughn gave a splendid report on National Defense and suggested "Mystery of the Multiplying Sons" as a book worth reading and Mrs. Millard H. Weidinger reported the membership to be forty-three at this time.

Mrs. Hynes, president, reported that Mrs. Harold Zimmerman has been appointed State Chairman of Historic Records and Mrs. John Wesley Smith of Williamsburg, a new member, was introduced and welcomed.

Mrs. Smith and her distinguished husband, John Wesley Smith, were in England this past July, having made the trip primarily to attend the Queen's Garden Party at Buckingham Palace. Mr. Smith showed the color slides which he had taken in England and gave an interesting and humorous account of some little-known historical facts about towns and castles visited. His color pictures included views of Saint Paul's Cathedral, Regent Street, the shopping center of London, Windsor Castle; Roman baths at Bath, England, which are still in use. The Smiths were entertained by the Lord Mayor of Newcastle and at the town of Washington, named for George Washington, their home, the Lord Mayor welcomed them and presented them with a banner of the Washingtons to bring back to this country.

His own luck, however, has taken a turn for the worse. The Post Office Department informed the Bureau he was being charged with mail fraud.

Light refreshments were served by the hostess during the game.

Members present were: Mrs. Lorraine Evans, Mrs. Ronald Hurless, Mrs. Charles Pine, Mrs. Robert Noel, Mrs. James Morris, Mrs. Joe Cassell, Mrs. Paul Spires of this city and Mrs. Harold Bales of New Holland.

Following the game the members enjoyed a late snack at Herb's Drive Inn.

Middie, Shelby Stars Hailed as Ohio's Greatest

Lucas, Siegfried Set Fast Pace as High School Cage Scorers

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Put 'em on the same team, bill 'em as "Jerry and Larry, the point-producing pair," and you've had the greatest basketball act Ohio has ever seen.

That, of course, would be Jerry Lucas, Middletown junior, and Larry Siegfried, Shelby senior, now involved in a headlong race for Ohio's high school basketball scoring laurels.

Lucas is 6-9, and his team has a 36-game winning streak, 11 this year, to pace The Associated Press weekly poll as the No. 1 Class AA club. Shelby has dropped one of 10, but Siegfried has pushed the Whippets into fifth place with his deft touch. He's 6-4.

Lucas, the sensation of last March's state tourney as he set eight records in leading the Midddies to the title, scored 31 against Portsmouth in Friday's 84-51 contest, and came back for the same total against Columbus East Saturday's 72-68 overtime win.

That gave the Butler County boy 417 points for 11 games, and an average of 37.9.

Siegfried, who the previous week had scored 58 against Willard, made it 60 against Galion for a 91-69 verdict. The big splash pushed him to 395 for 10 games, an average of 39.5 which moved him ahead of Lucas.

Lucas, in getting "only" 31 against Columbus East, was outscored for the first time in his career. Mel Nowell, 6-1 guard, counted 35 for East, including a last-second two-pointer from far out which sent the game into extra innings.

East has only a 5-5 record for the season, but gave the Middies their toughest scrap in two campaigns.

With 28 writers voting in the poll, Arcanum's 1956 Class B (now Class A) champions moved into the top spot in the smaller school list despite 2 losses in 4 starts. Reynoldsburg, last week's leader, slipped to second with a 12-0 record, and Lockland Wayne's always-dangerous crew banged into third despite three losses in 10 games.

Zanesville, second a week ago in Class AA, changed places with Columbus North, each sporting a 10-game winning streak. Canton McKinley, state finalist along with Middletown and Columbus North last year, took fourth with an 8-2 mark.

Seven of the top 10 in the big school list are still unbeaten.

Several other unbeaten squads, including Anthony Wayne (9-0), Salem and Steubenville (each 7-0) failed to land in the top 10. Failing to make the top 10 in Class A, despite perfect records, were Locust Grove (14-0), Bethel and New Bremen (12-0), Hartford and Springfield Twp. of Jefferson County (10-0), Piketon (8-0), and New Boston (7-0).

Here is how Ohio sports editors rate the top teams. Shown are first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis and the won-lost records:

Wildlife Experts Pleading For More Operating Funds

Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of five articles dealing with the problems of the nation's wildlife management agents.

By DION HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
Fish and game agencies the country over, different through their individual game management problems may be, suddenly are stowing in the same brand of hot water: they no longer have enough revenue to support their continually expanding programs.

In California, Texas, Michigan, Wisconsin — pick a state blindfold and find the same situation — the official lament is the same:

Increase the revenues, or reduce the fish, game and forestry programs.

If such cutbacks should come to pass, in many cases they would mean curtailment of essential basic wildlife management projects and permanent losses not only to hunters and fishermen but to the whole land-based economy.

In others, it would mean forced curtailment of outmoded, discarded wastes of public money in sacred-cow projects that should have been cut out years ago.

And in some, it might even mean a reduction in the vital basic operations of natural resource management for the benefit of the sacred cows.

Here is an example from a state where demands for increased license fees, larger appropriations

California Set To Name Coach
BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The University of California should name its new football coach tonight with Nebraska's Pete Elliott seen on the inside track.

There was nothing official from the university except an announcement that the two groups having the final decision meet at 7:30 p.m. to hear the report of Athletic Director Greg Engelhard and Paul Hastings, executive director of the Associated Students Organization.

Speculation, however, pointed to the 30-year-old Elliott, a star at the University of Michigan in his collegiate days, as most likely to succeed Lynn O. (Pappy) Waldorf, who has resigned.

Hickory Smoke Is Favored Trotter

This was made known when the Hambletonian Society announced that 86 horses had been kept eligible by the Jan. 1 payment of $250 each for the famous sulky derby which has been transplanted from Goshen, N. Y., to Du Quoin.

Based on 15 starters, the 32nd Hambletonian will have a gross value of about $4,000.

Buckeye '5' Now Leading Big 10 Race

COLUMBUS (AP)—Frank Howard, Ohio State University's sharp-shooting forward, racked up 31 points to lead the Buckeyes to an 85-73 triumph over the Minnesota Gophers in a Big Ten basketball game Monday night.

The victory, OSU's third straight in conference play, gave the Buckeyes a firm hold on first place in Big Ten competition.

At Bowling Green, in a Mid-American Conference game, the Bowling Green Falcons edged out Marshall College of Huntington, W. Va., 80-75. The win gave the Falcons a 5-2 conference record and moved them into second place behind Miami of Ohio.

John Carroll University in Cleveland came up with a 70-65 win over host Fenn College.

Trailing by eight points at one time during the second half, the Carroll cagers had to wait until there were less than 10 minutes left in the game before they could take a 60-59 lead.

In Springfield, Wittenberg's Tigers fought through a close battle to defeat Capital's Fighting Lutherans 76-68. Wittenberg led 38-37 at the half.

Iowa Crew Finds Way To Halt Stilt

AMES, Iowa (AP)—Wilt Stilt, Shucks, he's just another big bloke who can be stopped.

Yes, he's the same Wilt Chamberlain who had been scoring at a 32-point-a-game clip. But ask Iowa State. The Cyclones will just point to their two tussles with The Stilt and Kansas. A month ago they held him to 12 points and a 58-57 thriller.

Monday night, they held him to 17 points and won 39-37. So Kansas, the No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, went down to its first defeat of the season after winning 12.

Trailing by eight points at one time during the second half, the Carroll cagers had to wait until there were less than 10 minutes left in the game before they could take a 60-59 lead.

Lucas, Siegfried Set Fast Pace as High School Cage Scorers

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Put 'em on the same team, bill 'em as "Jerry and Larry, the point-producing pair," and you'd have the greatest basketball act Ohio has ever seen.

That, of course, would be Jerry Lucas, Middletown junior, and Larry Siegfried, Shelby senior, now involved in a headlong race for Ohio's high school basketball scoring laurels.

Lucas is 6-9, and his team has a 36-game winning streak, 11 this year, to pace The Associated Press weekly poll as the No. 1 Class AA club. Shelby has dropped one of 10, but Siegfried has pushed the Whippets into fifth place with his deaf touch. He's 6-4.

Lucas, the sensation of last March's state tourney as he set eight records in leading the Midddies to the title, scored 31 against Portsmouth in Friday's 84-51 conquest, and came back for the same total against Columbus East Saturday's 72-68 overtime win.

That gave the Butler County boy 417 points for 11 games, and an average of 37.9.

Siegfried, who the previous week had scored 58 against Willard, made it 60 against Galion for a 91-69 verdict. The big splash pushed him to 395 for 10 games, an average of 39.5 which moved him ahead of Lucas.

Lucas, in getting "only" 31 against Columbus East, was outscored for the first time in his career. Mel Nowell, 6-1 guard, counted 35 for East, including a last-second two-pointer from far out which sent the game into extra innings.

East has only a 5-5 record for the season, but gave the Middies their toughest scrap in two campaigns.

With 28 writers voting in the poll, Arcanum's 1956 Class B (now Class A) champions moved into the top spot in the smaller school list despite 2 losses in 4 starts. Reynoldsburg, last week's leader, slipped to second with a 12-0 record, and Lockland Wayne's always-dangerous crew banged into third despite three losses in 10 games.

Zanesville, second a week ago in Class AA, changed places with Columbus North, each sporting a 10-game winning streak. Canton McKinley, state finalist along with Middletown and Columbus North last year, took fourth with an 8-2 mark.

Seven of the top 10 in the big school list are still unbeaten.

Several other unbeaten squads, including Anthony Wayne (9-0), Salem and Steubenville (each 7-0) failed to land in the top 10. Failing to make the top 10 in Class A, despite perfect records, were Locust Grove (14-0), Bethel and New Bremen (12-0), Hartford and Springfield Twp. of Jefferson County (10-0), Piketon (8-0), and N.W. Boston (7-0).

Here is how Ohio sports editors rate the top teams. Shown are first place votes in parentheses, the poll points on a 10-9-8-etc. basis and the won-lost records:

Wildlife Experts Pleading For More Operating Funds

Editor's Note: Following is the second in a series of five articles dealing with the problems of the nation's wildlife management agents.

By DION HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Fish and game agencies the country over, different through their individual game management problems may be, suddenly are stowing in the same brand of hot water: they no longer have enough revenue to support their continually expanding programs.

In California, Texas, Michigan, Wisconsin — pick a state at random and find the same situation — the official lament is the same:

Increase the revenues, or reduce the fish, game and forestry programs.

If such cutbacks should come to pass, in many cases they would mean curtailment of essential basic wildlife management projects and permanent losses not only to hunters and fishermen but to the whole land-based economy.

In others, it would mean forced curtailment of outmoded, discarded wastes of public money in sacred-cow projects that should have been cut out years ago.

And in some, it might even mean a reduction in the vital basic operations of natural resource management for the benefit of the sacred cows.

Here is an example from a state where demands for increased license fees, larger appropriations

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California should name its new football coach tonight with Nebraska's Pete Elliott seen on the inside track.

There was nothing official from the university except an announcement that the two groups having the final decision meet at 7:30 p.m. to hear the report of Athletic Director Greg Engelhard and Paul Hastings, executive director of the Associated Students Organization.

Speculation, however, pointed to the 30-year-old Elliott, a star at the University of Michigan in his collegiate days, as the man most likely to succeed Lynn O. (Pappy) Waldorf, who has resigned.

Hickory Smoke Is Favored Trotter

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Hickory Smoke, winter book favorite for the $100,000 Hambletonian classic, and all the leading 2-year-old trotters of last season are eligible for the world's richest harness race to be held here Aug. 27.

This was made known when the Hambletonian Society announced that 86 horses had been kept eligible by the Jan. 1 payment of $250 each for the famous sulky derby which has been transplanted from Goshen, N. Y., to Du Quoin.

Based on 15 starters, the 32nd Hambletonian will have a gross value of about $4,000.

Buckeye '5' Now Leading Big 10 Race

COLUMBUS (AP) — Frank Howard, Ohio State University's sharpshooting forward, racked up 31 points to lead the Buckeyes to an 85-73 triumph over the Minnesota Gophers in a Big Ten basketball game Monday night.

The victory, OSU's third straight in conference play, gave the Buckeyes a firm hold on first place in Big Ten competition.

At Bowling Green, in a Mid-American Conference game, the Bowling Green Falcons edged out Marshall College of Huntington, W. Va., 80-75. The win gave the Falcons a 5-2 conference record and moved them into second place behind Miami of Ohio.

John Carroll University in Cleveland came up with a 70-65 win over host Fenn College.

Trailing by eight points at one time during the second half, the Carroll cagers had to wait until there were less than 10 minutes left in the game before they could take a 60-58 lead.

In Springfield, Wittenberg's Tigers fought through a close battle to defeat Capital's Fighting Luthers 76-68. Wittenberg led 38-37 at the half.

WHS Junior Cagers Lose at Chillicothe

Washington C. H. High School's junior cagers lost their third game in five starts this season at Chillicothe Monday afternoon when the juniors of West Fifth St. Junior High School staged a spectacular rally to win, 40 to 26.

It had been a nip and tuck game, with the score tied at 15-all at half-time. With only three minutes left in the game, the Lion Cubs were leading 25 to 22 when the roof fell in on them.

The Chillicotheans got three quick baskets to forge ahead as time was running out. Then the Cubbs went into an all-court press. When the starters were unable to cope with the situation, Coach Fred Domenico sent in the second string, but it was unable to stop the closing surge of the Chillicothe boys, who collected the astonishing total of 18 points in three minutes.

The Cubbs lineup, and scores,

Kansas Keeps Cage Rating

NEW YORK (AP) — North Carolina, although impressive winner of three games, lost ground during the last week in its effort to overtake powerful Kansas as the No. 1 team in the Associated Press college basketball poll.

The Kansans racked up 923 points, 95 better than second-place North Carolina. However, after the votes were counted, Iowa State snapped Kansas' 12-game unbeaten streak 39-37.

UCLA advanced from eighth to sixth. Seattle from ninth to seventh. Illinois from 10th to eighth. The skidders were Vanderbilt, which tumbled from sixth to 10th after losing an overtime game to Mississippi, and Iowa State, which fell from seventh to ninth after

City and County Seniors Set for Scholarship Tests

Approximately 50 Students Planning To Participate

Approximately 50 high school seniors in five high schools in Fayette County today are doing a bit of "boning up" for the annual senior scholarship tests which are to be given Friday morning.

Twenty-six Washington C. H. High School students have signed up for the tests. W. J. Hiltz, superintendent of the county schools, said about 25 seniors in the Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville, Madison Mills and Good Hope high schools are expected to take the tests but that the list will not be immediately available.

Students who are to take the test at Washington C. H. High School are Linda Sue Anderson, Peggy Ann Bandy, Larry Jay Bennett, Wilma Jo Brown, Gary Gene Cartwright, Mary Chakres, Bonnie Louise Clark, Theodore Russell Clarke, Sandra Lee Cook, Sarah Core, Carolyn Elizabeth Crago, Mary Susan Dray, Howard Webb Ellis, Janie Kay Gillen, Nancy Jane Hurt, Joan Acton Jacobs, Roger Dean Klontz, Margaret Ann Meriwether, Earl Franklin Miller, John Albert Pollock, Judith Ann Preston, Nancy Carol Reno, Sandra Lee Rose, Wanda Lee Tracy, Philip Allen Williams and Susan Wissler.

STUDENTS in the four schools in the Miami Trace district are to take the tests at Jeffersonville. In the afternoon of the same day, an agriculture test is to be given at Jeffersonville; like the regular scholarship tests, it is on a voluntary basis for those contemplating higher education in colleges of agriculture.

Jack White, dean of boys, is at Washington C. H. High School. The other members are Mrs. Leah O'Briant, remedial reading teacher of the WHS faculty and supervisor of testing in the city schools, and Mrs. Kathleen Scott, high school librarian. The tests will be given in the library. The committee was appointed by Principal John Trace under authority of the Ohio Department of Education.

Supt. Hiltz was named chairman of the tests for the Miami Trace district. Other members of the committee are Harold Thomas, Good Hope principal; Robert Angus, Madison Mills principal and G. H. Biddle, Bloomingburg principal.

The tests are held throughout Ohio every year under the direction of the state department.

ANY STUDENT in the upper 40 per cent of the senior classes is eligible, but those in the upper 25 per cent, especially those intending to enter college, are encouraged to take them.

Results of the tests are considered good indicators of probable success in college. Many colleges and universities, in both Ohio and other states, award scholarships on the basis of the test results.

White also commented that they are good experience for the students, since most of them will be taking similar tests in college and the armed forces.

The tests are objective, of the multiple choice, true or false, type.

They are given in five sections with 30 minutes allotted for each section: English — word usage and literature; history — world, American, American government and world affairs; mathematics — fundamentals of arithmetic and algebra; science — fundamentals of basic sciences, and reading—comprehension and vocabulary.

News in Brief

Actor Hinted In Line for High Position

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Times said today that Robert Montgomery, President Eisenhower's television adviser, may be named Assistant Secretary of the Navy.

The Times said that the 52-year-old actor and producer is "authoritatively reported to be interested in the $20,000 a year post expected to be vacant shortly after the President starts his second term."

Montgomery recently was promoted to captain in the Naval Reserve, the dispatch said.

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli troops withdrew today from El Arish, Egypt's Sinai Peninsula. Yugoslav units of the U.N. emergency force moved in a few minutes later.

Egyptian spokesmen have said President Nasser's troops would enter the base, 30 miles southwest of the old Palestine border, Wednesday.

After their withdrawal, Israeli forces still occupied about one-fourth of the Sinai Peninsula which they won in their lightning attack last October.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Famed violinist Joseph Szigeti says he is ignoring an invitation to give concerts in Communist Hungary.

"It's incredible to think that they are giving concerts while they are killing people in the streets," said Szigeti, a native of Hungary but now a naturalized citizen. He left there in 1941.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, a key figure in the 1954 Army-McCarthy row, has been recommended by President Eisenhower for promotion to major general.

Zwicker's clash with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was one of several incidents that led to the Army-McCarthy feud. As an outgrowth of this dispute, a Senate committee investigated McCarthy's activities, and the Senate voted to "condemn" his conduct.

NEW DELHI (AP) — Press reports indicate at least 20 Indians—and possibly as many as 40—have died in an unusual nine-day cold wave in north India. Most deaths were laid to exposure among persons lacking clothing or fuel for the unexpected weather.

Six Children Not in School; Greenfield Mother Sentenced

GREENFIELD — Mrs. Clara Sharp, 42, entered Marysville Reformatory for Women Monday to begin a year's sentence imposed by Judge Orland Roades of Highland County Probate Court, on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minor children by failing to have them attend school.

The woman has four sons and two daughters, ranging in age from 6 to 15 years. Their father, Frank Sharp, is in the Highland County Infirmary. The County Welfare Department is caring for the children. The charge against Mrs. Sharp was filed by Superintendent William W. West of the Greenfield Schools, who said:

"The complaint was signed with the intention of protecting the children."

West added the children were rarely in school and that the customary three notices had been sent to the mother, instructing her to have them attend.
